Florida Virtual School® Announces 2018 Principal of the Year Award

Orlando, FL (Apr. 5, 2018) - Florida Virtual School (FLVS®), a statewide public school district in the state of Florida, recently announced the FLVS representative for the 2018 Florida Department of Education’s Principal Achievement Award for Outstanding Leadership. Representing FLVS as Principal of the Year is Deborah Adams.

Adams, an instructional leader/principal of the FLVS Flex program, competed against her peers from school districts across the state. The Florida Department of Education’s Principal of the Year is chosen from district nominees by a selection committee. The award recognizes exemplary principals for contributions to their schools and communities, and honors those who have spearheaded initiatives to increase student performance and promote safe learning environments.

Adams is a member of the Florida chapter of the Safe Teen Driving Collation, which collaborates with other Florida and national organizations to bring educational opportunities to the community. She also volunteers to support the fundraising efforts of the FLVS Foundation, and additionally founded the Teen Driving Club at FLVS.

“I am deeply honored to be selected as the Principal of the Year at FLVS,” said Adams. “I am proud to be part of this amazing educational family that customizes the learning environment so that each student can achieve in a way that works best for them. Witnessing the tremendous talent, innovative ideas and engaging environment only inspires me to want to continue our mission of the Driver Safety Team of saving lives, one student at a time!”

Adams is a resident of St. Augustine, Florida.
